CHIEF'S MESSAGE · CHIEF EARL L. COOK

I am pleased to present the 2014 Annual Report for the Alexandria Police Department. The crime stats from 2014 are one example of how we measure our success in the responsibilities that our sworn, civilian and volunteer staff undertake to protect the City of Alexandria. The historic lows in Part 1 crime are a reflection of the unprecedented level of cooperation we have with our City partners, the Commonwealth's Attorney's Office and, most importantly, our community.

In addition to reducing crime, we also closed six homicides by arrest in 2014; two of which were unsolved cases from 2003 and 2009. These closures are representative of the persistence and tenacity my staff bring to work each and every day. We are committed to the pursuit of justice so that the community remains confident in our ability to serve and protect those that work, live and visit this great City.

The men and women of the Alexandria Police Department recognize that the trust bestowed upon us is earned each day through the strong relationships between the police department and the community. As we move into 2015, we will increase our efforts in creating opportunities that will allow for the exchange of ideas and information, so that we can continue to provide professional, competent and value based service.

One of my goals in 2014 was for the Police Department to attract and retain quality officers. I am pleased to report that we have been successful in hiring the applicants that share and support the values and commitment expected by me and the community. I know that a successful police – citizen interaction must start with the quality of the people we hire in addition to the training we provide.

I am proud of our sworn and civilian staff. They have made a commitment to public service and work diligently to serve, protect and represent this City in the manner that we can all be proud.

This annual report is a reflection of the work we completed this past year and a brief look into your police department. I encourage you to learn more about us in 2015 by following us on social media, attending our police citizens academy or interacting with me and my staff at the many community events scheduled. I look forward to the conversation.

ANCILLIARY

Alexandria maintains a modern, highly trained, technically skilled, energetic, diverse and well-equipped police department, with a current authorized strength of 304 sworn and 138 civilian employees.

The Alexandria Police Department has been internationally accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) since 1986 and was reaccredited in 1991, 1996, 2001, 2004, 2007, 2010 and 2013. This is a significant accomplishment for the men and women of the department. CALEA accreditation is a rigorous and difficult process that, if achieved, affirms the professional status of law enforcement agencies worldwide.

RUTHANNE LODATO HOMICIDE

Ruthanne Lodato was killed in her home on Ridge Road Drive on February 6, 2014. At approximately 11:35 a.m., officers responded to the 2400 block for a report of a shooting.

The two adult, female victims were transported to local hospitals. One victim suffered non-life-threatening injuries. Lodato succumbed to her injuries at the hospital.

Initial investigation indicated the suspect knocked on the door of the residence and shot the two victims when they answered the door. The suspect then fled. He was described as an older white male, balding with gray hair and a full beard.

The Alexandria Police Department immediately conducted an exhaustive search for the suspect, even utilizing a Fairfax County Police Department helicopter. The initial search also caused the lockdown of several Alexandria City Public schools as a precaution. The day after the homicide, police released a composite sketch of the suspect and asked for the public's help in identifying him.

On March 6, the Police Department received forensic reports from the Commonwealth of Virginia's Department of Forensic Science regarding the Lodato homicide in comparison to evidence collected in two previous homicides.

Analysis showed that "the items (bullets) exhibit the same general rifling class and characteristics and are similar in design to evidence (bullets) submitted in both Kirby and Dunning cases.

However, the results of the microscopic comparisons were inconclusive. It was not possible to identify or eliminate these bullets as having been fired from the same firearm.”

This report showed there was enough similarity between the bullets in the homicide investigations of Nancy Dunning (2003), Ron Kirby (2013), and Ruthanne Lodato (2014) to link the crimes together.

The following week, news reports linked Charles Severance to these investigations. Mr. Severance’s name had been brought to the attention of the Alexandria Police Department during the routine analysis of crime tips. Further investigation by multiple law enforcement agencies determined that Mr. Severance was a convicted felon in unlawful possession of firearms. He was located by law enforcement officials in West Virginia, where he was arrested on a Loudoun County warrant for the weapons violation.

At the time, the Alexandria Police Department had not charged Mr. Severance with any crime. Detectives continued to follow up on the crime tip information; however, it would have been premature to name him as the only possible suspect in the investigations.

For months, detectives constantly investigated and evaluated the facts and evidence related to this case. Detectives were tasked with fully vetting over 1000 tips, including investigating any connection Severance may have had with these crimes. It was a complex and time-consuming endeavor. It was also imperative that the Police Department follow the proper investigative process and present probable cause to the Commonwealth Attorney before charging Severance and naming him as a suspect in this case.

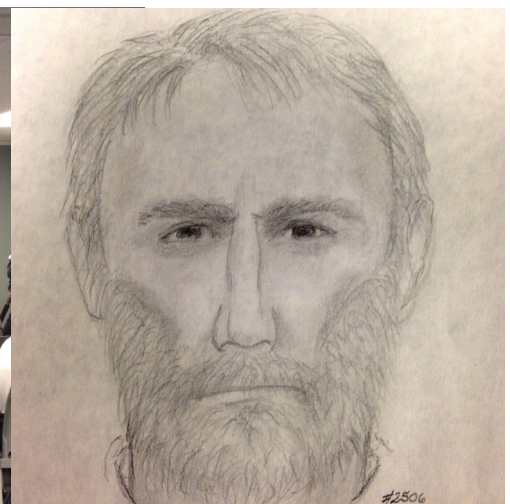

On September 8, Charles Severance was charged in the homicides of Ruthanne Lodato, Ron Kirby, and Nancy Dunning. He was indicted on the following charges related to the three investigations:

- Nancy Dunning Case: First Degree Murder and Use of a Firearm in the Commission of a Felony
- Ron Kirby Case: Capital Murder, Use of a Firearm in the Commission of a Felony, Possession of a Firearm by a Felon
- Ruthanne Lodato Case: Capital Murder, two counts of Use of a Firearm in the Commission of a Felony, Possession of a Firearm by a Felon, and Malicious Wounding

This was a complex and time-consuming investigation that spanned almost 11 years. Severance’s trial date was set for October 2015.

The Alexandria Police Department would like to thank the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Virginia State Police, and area law enforcement agencies for their assistance.

URRUTIA-ERAZO HOMICIDE

On Thursday, June 19, Julio Caesar Urrutia-Erazo, 27, was shot in the 3800 block of Russell Road. At approximately 11:40 p.m., police responded to the area for a shooting. The victim was located by police suffering from a gunshot wound to the upper body. He was transported to an area hospital in critical condition. The initial investigation indicated the shooting occurred after a verbal altercation between two groups of people.

Urrutia-Erazo succumbed to his injuries and died on June 21.

On October 17, Alexandria Police charged three suspects in connection with this homicide:

- Jesus Alejandro Chavez was charged with Use of a Firearm During a Crime of Violence Causing Death, Murder in Aid of Racketeering, and Felony Possession of a Firearm.
- Jose Del Cid was charged with Murder in Aid of Racketeering.
- Genaro Sen Garcia was charged with Murder in Aid of Racketeering.

These charges were placed through an indictment by the U.S. Attorneys Office. The full indictment charged 13 gang members with crimes in Prince William County, Fairfax County and Alexandria.

ABAYNEH HOMICIDE

On July 4, Asabech Abayneh, 43, was found deceased in her residence. Police responded to the 5600 block of Derby Court, at 11:32 a.m. for an unresponsive female. An adult female was found deceased in her residence. The manner of death could not be determined at the scene. An autopsy the next morning ruled the death a homicide.

The Alexandria Police Department is still seeking information regarding this homicide. Anyone with information regarding Ms. Abayneh or who has had contact with her in the past six months is asked to contact Detective Loren King at 703.746.6689. Detectives would like to remind witnesses that they can remain anonymous.

CROSS HOMICIDE

On September 7, Carolyn Cross, 64, was killed in her home in the 4800 block of Kenmore Avenue. Around 8:12 a.m., officers responded to assist the Fire Department and medics. The victim was pronounced dead at the scene. After a quick and thorough investigation, police charged Dawit Seyoum, 29, of Alexandria, with First Degree Murder.

POLICE CHARGE MAN IN 2009 HOMICIDE

On October 14, the Alexandria Police Department was able to successfully close a five year-old homicide. Willie Smith, 48, a non-city resident, was charged with the 2009 murder of Michael James Horton.

On Thursday, June 18, 2009, at 6 p.m., officers responded to the 600 block of N. Payne Street for a report of an Aggravated Assault. They found a man lying on the ground suffering from several stab wounds to the upper body. He was pronounced dead at a local hospital. An autopsy ruled the death a homicide.

Alexandria Police Detectives regularly review unsolved cases to see if new investigative steps are available. Individuals in this case were interviewed again for possible new information. It was determined that the suspect, Willie Smith, killed the victim, Michael James Horton, after an altercation.

“Arrests such as these are meaningful professional victories for our detectives,” said Police Chief Earl Cook. “We do not have the necessary resources for a full-time Cold Case Unit. Our detectives carry a full case load and they investigate these “cold cases” in addition to their normal duties because of their commitment to the families of the victims. I am extremely proud of the hard work and dedication that allowed us to bring this case to a close.”

Willie Smith is currently incarcerated at the Greensville Correctional Facility for Abduction and Robbery that occurred in Fairfax County in 2009.

INCIDENTS ON HANSON LANE

On June 16, at approximately 6:16 p.m., police responded to the 400 block of Hansen Lane for a call regarding a suspicious package in a backyard. Officers found a bag containing a firearm and a suspected explosive device.

The Arlington County Fire Department EOD Unit responded, and Fairfax County Police Department assisted with use of a helicopter. An item was detonated in a controlled manner to safely dispose of the possible explosive. This is a standard method used by explosive experts. Several nearby houses were evacuated due to their proximity to the possible detonation zone. The helicopter located a person in a wooded area that appeared to be deceased. Upon investigation, it was determined that the person died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound and was the owner of the suspicious package.

The deceased was identified as James Froman, 50, of Alexandria.

NOTABLE EVENTS

ALEXANDRIA POLICE PROMOTES TWO WOMEN TO THE RANK OF DEPUTY CHIEF

The promotions of Deputy Chief Hooper and Deputy Chief Gittins mark the first time in the history of the Alexandria Police Department that a woman has reached the rank of Deputy Chief.

Deputy Chief Tammy Hooper has served with the Alexandria Police Department for 25 years. She is a graduate of the FBI National Academy-Session 235 and holds a Graduate Certificate in Criminal Justice from the University of Virginia, and a Bachelor of Science degree in Administration of Justice from George Mason University.

Deputy Chief Dianne Gittins started her career in law enforcement with the Alexandria Police Department in December 1989. She has a Master's degree in Public Administration and a Bachelor of Individual Studies in Behavioral Science/Criminal Justice, both from George Mason University. Deputy Chief Gittins has a wide breadth of experience within the police department having also held positions in each of the four bureaus. Most recently she commanded the Motor Unit and Parking Enforcement, which includes a staff of over 60 employees.

ALEXANDRIA'S CRISIS INTERVENTION TEAM HONORS AWARD WINNERS

Alexandria's Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) held an Awards Luncheon on Wednesday, November 5. Hosted by Mayor William D. Euille, Police Chief Earl L. Cook, Sheriff Dana Lawhorne, and Liz Wixson from the Department of Community and Human Services, four Alexandria Crisis Intervention Team members were honored.

Awards were presented to:

PSCO Meghan Tallon "CIT DEC Employee of the Year" for handling and engaging a caller with PTSD until help could reach him in person.

Deputy Dawn Jefferies "CIT Deputy of the Year" for her commitment to transporting people detained for mental evaluations to and from numerous hospitals to hearings.

Officer Marcus Downey "CIT Officer of the Year" for his assistance to a woman charged with prostitution who then attempted to take her own life.

Officer Frank Riley "CIT Intervention of the Year" for his realization that a woman’s chronic cycling through City agencies was related to mental illness and she was in need of services.

Alexandria’s Crisis Intervention Team was developed in collaboration with the Department of Community and Human Services, the Alexandria Police Department, and the Alexandria Sheriff’s Office to help improve staff interactions and outcomes with persons with mental illness and substance use disorders. Unlike most CIT programs across the country which are comprised solely of police officers, Alexandria’s program includes staff from all first responding agencies to ensure that a comprehensive, City-wide approach is in place to assist residents with mental illness

CIT is based on a model developed by the Memphis Police Department in 1988 following a police shooting of a person with mental illness. The training is designed to educate and prepare police and other officials who come in contact with people with mental illnesses to recognize the signs and respond effectively. The program is one of a number of cooperative, multi-agency initiatives currently underway in Alexandria to help divert persons with mental illness and substance use disorders away from the criminal justice system and into the treatment system.

RAIDSONLINE: POLICE ADOPT NEW CRIME DATABASE

In August, the Police Department announced the implementation of RAIDSONLINE.com, a website the public can use at no cost to search for crimes reported in and around specific areas in Alexandria. RAIDSONLINE.com replaces the CrimeReports.com tool. RAIDSONLINE.com allows users to search for historical data as far back as January 1, 2013, while the previous reporting site would only allow the user to search the previous six months, in one month intervals.

RAIDSONLINE.com is another tool that Alexandria Police Department uses to provide information about local crime to the City’s residents. The application also includes an advanced analytics dashboard which empowers the user by allowing the ability to create charts and graphs showing crime patterns relating to time of day or day of week. In addition, RAIDSONLINE.com allows users to create “hot spot” maps, an analytic layer that displays the density of criminal activity in their neighborhoods.

BREAKING GROUND ON ALEXANDRIA POLICE MEMORIAL

On September 27, after years of hard work, the Alexandria Police Foundation broke ground on a memorial honoring those who have died in the line of duty. Since the early 1800s, eighteen of Alexandria’s Police officers have lost their lives in service to the City of Alexandria.

During the ceremony, Mayor William D. Euille, Police Chief Earl L. Cook and Alexandria Police Foundation Chairman Willem Polak gave remarks. Virginia House Representative Jim Moran also attended the groundbreaking ceremony and asked that all pray so that no new names would have to be added to the memorial.

The memorial was originally intended to be built with police headquarters in 2011. However, the City did not have the funds to carry out the project. As a result, the Alexandria Police Foundation spearheaded an initiative to create a publicly accessible memorial. The Foundation worked with two local companies, HDR and Whiting-Turner, to make a memorial that would “properly honor the courage, sacrifice and memory of these officers.”

IN MEMORIAM

On December 24, the Alexandria Police Department said good-bye to its beloved K-9 "Gracie" as she went over the "rainbow bridge".

K-9 "Gracie" spent the last five years protecting the City of Alexandria and its residents as the Alexandria Police Department's first female canine. "Gracie" and her handler, K-9 Officer Steve Escobar, have worked and trained together since Officer Escobar was transferred to the K-9 Unit in 2009. The pair graduated from Basic K-9 School in January 2010. "Gracie" and Officer Escobar worked the midnight shift for three years before being moved to the day shift. When not at work, "Gracie" and Officer Escobar continued to train. "Gracie" became certified as a bomb dog. She and Officer Escobar competed, along with other members of the K-9 Unit, in the United States Police Canine Association's Region 3 Dog Trials. In 2012, "Gracie" was the top novice dog in apprehension and obedience.

"Gracie" was first diagnosed with kidney cancer in November 2013. Defying all expectations, she persevered and continued to work until the very end with her partner, Officer Steve Escobar. "Over the course of 2014, Gracie was featured in several NBC Washington stories about her fighting spirit.

CRIME STATISTICS

ALEXANDRIA CONTINUED TO EXPERIENCE LOWS IN PART 1 CRIME IN 2014

The Alexandria Police Department reports that total Part 1 crime decreased by 0.1%, or by 4 offenses, in calendar year 2014. As in previous years, Alexandria continues to experience historic crime lows. These remain some of the lowest Part 1 crimes the City has experienced since the 1960's. Homicide, aggravated assault, and auto thefts decreased in 2014; There was one additional rape in 2014, while robberies and burglaries also increased

"The crime stats from 2014 are another example of the tireless work of our sworn, civilian and volunteer staff to protect the City of Alexandria. Overall, Part 1 crime is down. In addition to these historic lows, we also closed six homicides by arrest; two of which were considered cold cases from 2001 and 2009. These numbers are also a reflection of the unprecedented level of cooperation we have with our City partners, the Commonwealth's Attorney's Office and most importantly, our community. The Alexandria Police Department is committed in our efforts to reduce and prevent crime so that all who live, work, and visit Alexandria can do so in a safe community," stated Chief of Police Earl L. Cook.
